

Community Invested

Learners build relationships to positively impact local and global communities.

FCPS creates partnerships between school and community members that provide real-world opportunities for students to build connections and make positive contributions.

	Emerging	Developing	Advancing	Mastering/Ideal
Collaborators	I work with peers who are similar to me and who I am comfortable.	I work with peers who are different from me.	I initiate new relationships with diverse peers. I am able to apply strategies given to me to resolve conflicts.	I form and sustain positive relationships with people from diverse backgrounds and experiences through my ability to resolve conflict.
	I work within a group but I do not have a clearly defined role.	I understand my role and demonstrate how I am expected to work and interact with my group.	I choose my role and hold myself accountable. I recognize talents and strengths of each group member.	I support and utilize strengths within a group to achieve collective goals. I take initiative to complete tasks and hold others accountable in order to enrich the learning of self and others.
	Emerging	Developing	Advancing	Mastering/Ideal
Contributors	I participate in my classroom. I follows directions to complete procedural tasks.	I am active in my classroom and school community by asking questions, sharing ideas, and making connections between my learning and the needs of the community.	I lead in the classroom and school community. I seek opportunities and simulate ways I can initiate positive change.	I act on real issues, both locally and globally, for an authentic purpose and audience. I apply learning to future life, college, or career opportunities.
	Emerging	Developing	Advancing	Mastering/Ideal
Civically Responsible	I follow the established norms for our group.	I help establish norms for the group I work with. I accept that different groups have different norms, rules, laws, customs, and culture.	I explore different cultures and respect the norms, rights, beliefs, and opinions of others. I advocate to lessen the divide between groups of people.	I engage with issues that are affecting the local and global community. I embrace diversity and actively work to promote positive change through civic participation.